You can use the ALLERUM sofa-bed round the clock. By day, it's a nice sofa; by night, a comfortable extra bed. Practical when you need to use a small space in different ways. Another advantage is the removable cover, available in different colours so you can change when you like. The layer-glued birch frame is easy to keep clean. And the generous space under the sofa allows you to reach with a vacuum.

Comfortable round the clock

Sit for a while or sleep all night. ALLERUM sofa-bed is just as comfortable both ways. The seat is 20 cm thick and consists of a spring core encased in polyurethane foam and polyester wadding for extra comfort and support. A wooden lath under the sofa enables you to adjust the angle of the seat: tilted slightly backward for sitting; flat for lying down. Two loose cushions are included – use them to support your back or to rest your head.

HOW TO CONVERT ALLERUM

ALLERUM easily converts into a 93x203 cm bed. Just lift the front edge of the seat and push the wooden lath downwards to make a flat sleeping surface. Then, lower the backrest by pushing the lever on the back of the sofa. Push the lever again to return the backrest to an upright position. If you want to protect the sofa and provide an even softer sleeping surface, you can add a mattress pad. Remember to return the wooden lath to the forward position when you want to use it as a sofa again, so the seat angle is correct.
